PORT ACREAGE OPTIONS AUTHORIZED BY COUNCIL

Wire Dispatched to McGrath Urging Appeal For PWA Funds; Project Now Awaits Legal Ruling and Financing

Options on 12½ acres of property immediately adjoining the cement plant on Redwood Harbor upon which the proposed Redwood City port facilities will be placed were ordered acquired by the city council Monday night.

The council set a maximum price for the property of $1,500 per acre, so that $18,750 will be necessary for immediate land acquisition.

It is not believed that the city will be called upon to pay this full sum at one time, but if so, the proposed $200,000 issue may permit that course.

Owners of the property in question are Mrs. Lillian Rolph, 2½ acres; heirs of A. A. Brown, 2½ acres, and George A. Merrill, pioneer Redwood City resident, 7½ acres.

OTHER OPTIONS SOUGHT

City Attorney Albert Mansfield will ask six-month options on the 12½ acres during which period the question of whether or not Redwood City is to develop its natural harbor advantages must be settled perhaps for all time.

Additional options covering a 1-year period will be sought on 10 additional acres of adjoining properties which would be required for future units of port development should the first project prove as highly successful as anticipated.

OLD PRICES TOO HIGH

Redwood City's inability to pay the option price of $2250 per acre fixed by the San Mateo County Harbor District was expressed by the council. The municipality some years ago paid $1500 per acre for the yacht harbor lands.

Councilman Robert Jones pointed out that the land which the city was proposing to purchase was solid ground and not "mudholes," and was suitable for immediate use. It was filled some years ago by the Redwood City Harbor Company and other interests, and is considered desirable for port uses. He considered this an important point for the public to keep in mind.

Councilman Christensen emphasized that the price of the land had to be as low as possible in order to assure the public the investment was sound.

The plan of the council is to acquire as much of the land as the proposed $200,000 bond issue will permit, and as dredging and the port facilities will take an estimated $182,700, the margin for land acquisition is not great. But by tieing up future needs under options, the assurance is given that wide port success will not boost the prices beyond reason.

SEEK IMMEDIATE FUNDS

As the time is short for securing federal funds, and following the budget message of President Roosevelt stating that harbors will fall within the desired category of public improvements, the council authorized Acting City Manager Charles Dimmitt and Vielhauer to frame a telegram to Congressman John J. McGrath urging that, if possible, he secure tentative and immediate allotment of funds on the revived port project.

The motion authorizing Mansfield to secure the options on the land was put by Councilman McCarthy and was seconded by Councilman Evans Fletcher.

The status of the harbor situation now is that if legal powers of the city to proceed are established, and a PWA grant of $66,000 is secured, the project is ready for early submission to the voters for approval of a $200,000 bond issue.

Total federal participation in the development is expected to exceed that figure.

18 NOW SEEK MANAGERIAL OFFICE HERE

Council Looking Over List to Determine Future Course

With 18 applications on file for the city manager's post here, attention of councilmen was called to the list by Mayor Charles Lambert to determine what action, if any, is to be taken at an early meeting.

The post is now being filled by City Engineer Charles Dimmitt, who was appointed November 18 as manager pro tem to succeed City Manager Ernest Rolison, who resigned November 9. Dimmitt is technically not qualified under terms of the charter for the permanent appointment. It may be that Dimmitt might retain the post indefinitely under the pro tem appointment.

It is believed the desire of the council to agree unanimously, if possible, upon one of the candidates, in order that an applicant would not be placed in office now only to face the prospect of being removed after the April municipal election should there be any changes in council personnel.

Joseph Long, Berkeley assistant manager, who is considered one of the leading contenders for the post, has reported his willingness to accept the office under those conditions.

The only other Californians in the list are Oscar F. Weissgerber, Brawley city manager; W. A. Richmond, San Leandro city manager; William H. Brown, former Tulare city manager, and H. L. Denham, Pittsburg city manager.

Other applicants for the office are Robert M. Kerr, Florida; C. S. Fullerton, Ohio; V. Von Gemmingen, Virginia; C. C. Holden, Oklahoma; T. C. Marshall, South Carolina; James C. Harris, North Carolina; E. C. Peterson, Maine; E. M. Sneckenberger, South Dakota; Col. George E. A. Reinburg, Virginia; Parsons Pilcher, Washington, D. C.; M. A. Trafton, Maine, and J. B. Pridgen, North Carolina.

Former Resident, War Veteran, Dies At P. A. Hospital

Robert J. Albert, who lived in Redwood City for a number of years prior to 1920, died Sunday at the Veterans Facility at Palo Alto.

While in Redwood City, Albert was employed as a traveling auditor for the Southern Pacific.

Lately he had been connected with the assessor's office in San Jose, living at 935 Plaza drive in that city.

He was a native of Missouri. He belonged to the Wheaton camp, Spanish-American War Veterans, in San Jose. During that war he served as adjutant in the quartermasters' corps.

Survivors include his wife, Nellie, and a brother, Clement, of St. Louis.

10 Court Rules On Traffic Tag Cases Adopted

All Justices Accept Code Eliminating 'Ticket Fixing'

Ten rules for San Mateo county justice courts, designed to make traffic law enforcement more positive and equable, were adopted by the five justices of the peace when they met Tuesday in San Bruno.

The rules, signed at the meeting, will be posted at once in all courts, going into effect immediately, it was agreed by the judges: Edward I. McAuliffe of Redwood City; Manuel J. Bettencourt, Half Moon Bay; Hugh Mullin Jr., San Mateo; Gus B. Risso, Burlingame, and Wade H. Clay, South San Francisco-Daly City.

Besides adoption of the rules, principal one of which provides for abolition of "tag fixing," the justices recommended creation of a central bureau in the county where a record of all convictions would be obtainable.

WOULD CHECK RECORDS

While some operator's licenses provide on their reverse side space for convictions to be noted, others have no provisions for such a record. As a result, often a judge does not know that an offender has been previously convicted, it was pointed out.

Should the central record department be created in the traffic patrol office, controller's office or some other department, it would be planned to have all arrested person's records checked for prior violations, it was explained today by San Bruno's Police Judge R. A. Rapsey, chairman of the grand jury's traffic safety committee, originator of the idea of court rules. Judge Rapsey sat with the justices last night.

Rules adopted follow:

RULES AS ADOPTED

The rules are:

1. That no complaints will be accepted by any traffic court except the matters arising within the specific territorial jurisdiction of the court, subject only to legal limitations as to change of venue and demand for trial to county seat.

2. In all cases dismissed for non-appearance of arresting officers or at request of arresting officer, such reason shall be prominently noted on abstract of judgement certified to the motor vehicle department, and additionally upon a duplicate abstract of judgment to be furnished the San Mateo county district attorney, and in the case of city courts to local police chief.

3. A citation to appear shall be issued one week after the non-appearance of any person charged with traffic violations; if the citation is ignored a warrant of arrest shall issue automatically and immediately.

MUST SHOW LICENSE

4. If person arrested does not produce operator's license at time of arrest, such license must be produced before final disposition of the matter.

5. The arresting officer in all cases shall mark upon the citation issued by him the fact, if any, of previous convictions of traffic offenses by person cited.

6. Citations issued for faulty lights or equipment, or not having operator's license at time of arrest shall be returnable to the highway patrol or other police issuing the citation. If fault has not been corrected nor operator's license presented or the citation ignored, the citation shall be returned to a court and a complaint filed.

'TAG FIXING' OUTLAWED

7. Citation or complaint must be deposited with the court within 48 hours after issuance. This is expected to remove possibility of political pressure being put on officers to "fix tags."

8. No "tag fixing" shall be tolerated. "Tag fixing" is the solicitation of any judge, court or peace officer, by any person, for the dismissal of a cause or the mitigation of punishment without good cause.

9. All traffic cases involving person under 18 years of age shall be immediately reported by the court to the juvenile officer for investigation and recommendation. This is expected to deter youngsters from reckless driving.

10. Each court shall post in its court room a copy of these rules subscribed by the judge of the court.

'AD' MAN TELLS VALUE OF PAPERS AS MEDIUM

In a speech given this week at the San Francisco Advertising Club by Carl J. Eastman, nationally known merchandising authority and Pacific Coast manager for N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., in predicting some of the advertising and merchandising changes for 1936, he stated that advertisers would increase their space in newspapers during the coming year.

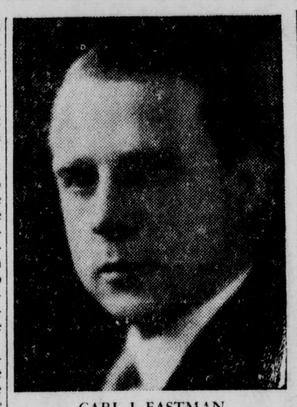
According to Mr. Eastman, the newspapers of the Pacific Coast offer two important functions which cannot be duplicated by any other medium. The newspaper offers timeliness and interpretation of events. The Pacific Coast newspapers have reached a high standard in supplying these important elements to their readers, and as a result the advertiser in 1936 will more than ever appreciate the value the newspaper can give to his message.

"Advertising in 1936," said Mr. Eastman, "will more than ever respect the timeliness and speed of action of the newspaper by an intelligent use of the medium."

Eastman Lists 15 Advertising and Business Predictions for '36

In his talk, Mr. Eastman made the following predictions in regard to advertising and merchandising for 1936:

1. Advertising will be more interesting, due to the use of new technical advances in art photography and printing.
2. The 1936 advertisement will adhere to facts more closely than ever before.
3. The successful 1936 advertisement will be a timely interpretation of newsworthy items about the product.
4. Television as a medium for advertising will not appear during this year.
5. Color in newspaper advertisements will be used more frequently in 1936.
6. In 1936, direct-by-mail advertising will have to be "streamlined" for action. Mail boxes will not be stuffed with lengthy material.
7. In 1936 billboard advertising will merge more with the scenery and will have more pictures and briefer advertising messages.
8. More attention in 1936, on the part of advertising writers, will be given to the editorial requirements for publications for which they are writing.
9. Illustrative treatment of 1936 advertising will swing toward the pen and brush, with combination of these with color photography and live models and other ultra-modern treatments.
10. Advertising budgets will be larger in 1936 and the newspapers, particularly on the Pacific Coast, because of improved economic conditions, will benefit.



CARL J. EASTMAN, Pacific Coast Manager for N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., and merchandising authority, predicts that advertisers will use greater newspaper space in 1936 in recent speech at S. F. Ad Club.

11. Businesses such as finance concerns, public utilities, insurance, all manufacturers of capital goods which, in the past, have advertised infrequently, or not at all, will in 1936 go to the public oftener than in recent years and in a lively and informative manner.
12. In 1936 merchandising, with particular attention to the retail stores, will be given careful attention by advertising men.
13. In 1936 we may expect a noticeable increase in sales of luxury and comfort articles and this will present a greater opportunity for the retailer.
14. Due to the closer understanding and intercourse between the mainland and Hawaii and with the Far East, and due to the Trans-Pacific mail and passenger carrier flights recently inaugurated, advertising men on the Coast will have an opportunity to enhance their messages by incorporating in them some of the romance, warmth, and interest of the Pacific Coast in relation to the tropical Islands and the East.
15. And, finally, for 1936 it can be safely predicted that there will still be people who will buy all advertised products but who will loudly proclaim that they never read an advertisement, and that they would not believe an advertisement anyhow if they did read it. In other words, remember that in 1936 human nature will not change.

POINT SAN PEDRO HELD PERILOUS FOR FISHERS

Plans of the San Bruno and Daly City Rod and Gun clubs to have the board of supervisors make the Point San Pedro rocks more accessible were protested Monday by George J. Lewis of Shelter Cove as creating a dangerous fishing ground.

Lewis said that waves 50 feet high sweep over the rocks at times, and cited the loss of three lives there last October. He said the rocks were among the most picturesque on the California coast and urged that they be preserved for their beauty.

Blasting as proposed by the rod and gun clubs to provide shelves along the bluffs for fishermen would destroy the rocks, he said, because of their shale construction.

The rod and gun club had asked that a rock fill be made and two foot bridges be constructed so as to avoid the present method of reaching the rocks by a breeches buoy.

Lewis' protest and the rod and gun clubs' requests were forwarded to the recreation committee for a report.

OCEAN SHORE ROAD EFFORTS PRAISED

Praise for the efforts of Chairman Manuel Francis Half Moon Bay; Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma; the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; State Highway Commissioner Timothy Reardon; County Engineer Urban Marshall and others, for the successful fight carried on in Sacramento for the $255,000 of state gasoline taxes for the Ocean Shore highway was paid by resolutions of the board.

The Coastside Civic Union also expressed its appreciation to the various supporters of the highway.

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE BOARD

Supervisor Witt was appointed by the board to represent the county in discussions pertaining to the adoption of a hog ordinance now under draft of the district attorney's office.

Conference on the proposed peddlers' ordinance was set for Friday at 1 p. m. in the supervisors' chambers.

Seven thousand dollars were transferred to a fund to finance the reregistration of county voters. The money is to come from the special election fund and the primary election fund.

Demand that the utilities post bonds guaranteeing to put roads in first class shape when they are cut up for repairs or extensions was made by Supervisor Witt and referred to the district attorney and executive to work out. Witt said such an ordinance would produce revenue.

Request of county veterans for a place to be set aside in Memorial Park for their use was referred to the planning and recreation commissions.

MAYOR LAGUARDIA'S ACTION PLEASES

Thanks of the San Mateo county board to Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia of New York City were expressed Monday by resolution for his "decisive stand" in connection with the artichoke racket affecting the New York market.

The mayor's stand was held to have broken the grip of certain New York gangsters on the marketing of the product, chiefly produced on the San Mateo county coastside, and consequently to have brought national attention to the vegetable and improved sales possibilities.

Pedestrians Periled As Car Jumps Curb

Peace suffered a scalp laceration in the crash.

County Board Puts 'Expose' Before Jurors

Old Reports of Union Activity Revived By Newspaper

Grand jury and district attorney inquiries of charges appearing in the San Francisco press of favoritism shown union workers on relief projects were asked Monday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

The story, an old one which broke during CWA days and known to most peninsulans through wide publication in the Tribune and other papers, was presented as an "expose."

Resignation of J. W. Cambiano, union agent, who was accused of the union activity among the relief workers, was said to have been requested by H. H. McPike, United States attorney in San Francisco. Cambiano resigned just a few days ago giving "pressure of private business" as the reason. He denied he had been requested to resign at that time. Monday he refused to comment until the whole "expose" is printed.

RODGERS RESPONSIBLE

A. W. Rodgers, Menlo Park carpenter, who has carried on an incessant effort to have the United States Grand Jury investigate his charges of favoritism, took credit for the San Francisco "expose."

Rodgers has appealed to President Roosevelt and other high officials without avail. He also said that McPike was not responsible for Cambiano's resignation. Rodgers indicated that he had been unable to secure any satisfaction from any federal authorities and finally took the affidavits to the newspaper.

The supervisors, through Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, said that Rodgers and others had appeared before that body and had had their requests for an inquiry forwarded to the district attorney. If there has been no satisfaction, Witt indicated, the fault would lie there.

COMMITTEE CONVINCED

Rodgers' charges of favoritism and the activity of the union heads in assertedly forcing relief workers to join were proved to the satisfaction of the San Mateo County Relief Committee, according to a story printed by the Tribune on May 21, 1934.

The committee at that time, suggested that Cambiano, as a union representative should not hold the dual role of relief committeeman This newspaper suggested that he resign his relief post, and the demand was made before the board that he be asked to quit. The supervisors, however, took no action.

Rodgers had asserted that relief workers were informed that they had to "square themselves" with union heads before they could get jobs. Cambiano in a fiery denial had declared that favoritism was not being shown union workers.

SHOWED REAL ZEAL

McPike was quoted by the San Francisco press as saying that Cambiano had displayed "excessive zeal" in his labor activities.

McPike asserted, however, that charges of favoritism or intimidation were "vicious and malicious untruths."

"There was no evidence of criminal activities; hence there will be no prosecution," the United Press today reported the federal officer said. "The relief official was overzealous for the union. He resigned at my request. That closes the case."

The San Francisco newspaper's threatened "expose" is to include the statement that one relief official was given an expensive gift as an appreciation of efforts on behalf of the unemployed.

Re-Opening Here Set For Today

Re-opening of the Home Bake Shop at 20 California street in the Tribune building was announced today by Fred Hofheinz, new proprietor.

Mr. Hofheinz has been a resident of Redwood City since 1922 and has been employed in leading bakeries in San Francisco and the peninsula.

He will operate the bakery on a policy of strictly best quality materials and home-style baking.

MRS. BIBER'S REMOVAL SOUGHT BY GRAND JURY

Sparing of $11,343 During Period of Stress Held By Spokesmen to Show Welfare Head Out of Sympathy With Unemployables

Culminating weeks of investigation by members and by special investigators, the grand jury Tuesday voted to recommend removal of Mrs. Ellen Biber as superintendent of San Mateo county's Department of Social Welfare.

In a far-reaching decision to urge a shakeup in the bureau, the jurors also decided to recommend to the board of supervisors that the social security department be separated from the welfare division, over which Mrs. Biber has been head since September, 1927.

The security department under Mrs. Pearl O. McCormick, has charge of administration of old age pension funds. As such, it will distribute some $99,000 this current year, jurors said they had learned. They reported they felt this work too important to be subordinated to another division.

PRINCIPALS SILENT

Comment on the grand jury's recommendation that Mrs. Ellen Biber be removed as head of the Department of Social Welfae was refused today by Mrs. Biber herself, by Dr. Charles C. Gans, who as health director is her immediate superior, and by County Manager Walter Kellogg, to whom Dr. Gans is responsible. Mrs. Biber, in declining to comment, parried questions by referring newspaper reporters to Dr. Gans. He and Kellogg, who conferred on the matter this morning upon hearing of the jury's action, both refused to comment "at this time."

While criticizing the work of Mrs. Biber, whom they accused of zeal to make a showing by saving budgeted relief funds instead of paying it out to needy persons, the grand jurors lauded results of Mrs. McCormick. She receives $150 a month; Mrs. Biber, $225.

SAVED COUNTY FUNDS

Specifically, the jury, through Spokesmen E. R. McDonald, Allen J. Ward, Edward Weisenberger and Foreman Allan Hunt, accused Mrs. Biber of denying applicants funds so as to save the county $11,343 of budgeted money during the 1934-35 fiscal year.

"Despite the fact we recently passed through a period of dire need, $11,000 appropriated for relief of the poor was returned to the general fund," said McDonald, chairman of the welfare bureau committee of the jury, in a statement to reporters following a three-hour session in the courthouse.

"We don't know why she saved this money when it was appropriated for a specific purpose, but she did.

"We are going to recommend to the board of supervisors that Mrs. Biber be removed. We believe she is out of sympathy with the work. We are not satisfied with her method of operating the department.

"Her desire seemed to be to save money instead of giving it to those in need."

SAVINGS DISCLOSED

Foreman Hunt declared that complaints had been received not only from clients of the department, but from county clubwomen who had supposedly made independent studies of charges brought to them.

Juror McDonald said approximately $49,000 was appropriated to the bureau last year. Of this amount, $30,000 was for groceries, $600 for shoes, $500 for board, $4600 for milk, $750 for moving expenses and $2300 for crippled children. Spent were $20,305 for groceries, $213 for shoes, $285 for board, $4151 for milk, $648 for moving and $1805 for the crippled children, leaving $11,343 to be returned to the general fund.

No evidence that any money had been dissipated or unaccounted for was uncovered, jurors said. It was felt only that the funds should have been used for the purposes intended, and not returned to the general fund, there to be used for other purposes.

DUTIES ARE VARIED

Mrs. Biber, a widow living at 105 West Bellevue, San Mateo, in her position handles all problem cases, discusses all cases with the state and county case workers, directs relief with county case workers, takes up a large percentage of office cases and signs checks, claims and requisitions.

Her work has been under scrutiny for some time and rumors have been current that a recommendation for changes in the department would be made by the jury.

Should she resign as a result of the request or be dismissed by County Health Director Charles Gans, it is believed the department may be combined with that of county relief director, now held by Capt. L. G. McAloney, with offices in Burlingame. McAloney is one of four reported mentioned for the post.

Such a change is known to have been considered by the board of supervisors. McAloney's duty, like that of Mrs. Biber, is to handle unemployable relief cases, but he spends mostly state funds. Employable cases come under jurisdiction of the federal Works Progress Administration, headed by James S. James, county manager.

RELIEF PROBE 'DUD'

The grand jury's investigation of federal relief work, ordered Monday by the supervisors, proved a "dud," Juror Allen Ward reported.

"District Attorney Ferrell has brought us nothing to show that any state laws have been violated in this county in administration of work relief," explained Ward. "If there has been a violation of federal laws, it is up to the United States district attorney to investigate it."

It was brought out that the state legislature unemployment relief committee already is investigating the setup in all counties, with Assemblyman Frederick Peterson conducting the inquiry in San Mateo county.

The grand jury plans to meet again next Tuesday night.

Ten McKinley Students Win Test Exemption

While their 73 fellow McKinley Intermediate eighth grade students labored today over final examinations, 10 students were excused from the tests, having acquired 148 honor points or a scholastic rating corresponding to a "B plus" average.

The lucky scholars were Esther Colton, Peggy Seufert, Betty Storey, Eva Zamzow, Carol Linebarger, Thomasine Alexander, Warren Brunings, Charles Juul, Marcus Vanderlaan and Emmett Murphy.

The final examinations will last until the end of the week, according to Mrs. Lauretta Paulsen, principal. The 10 students will only have to take the constitution test required of all pupils.

After the end of examinations, the McKinley eight graders will carry on their regular work, graduation rehearsals and other preparations for the end of their pre-high school year January 24.

COUNTY TO PURGE LIST OF PATROL APPLICANTS

San Mateo county supervisors Monday demanded of the California Highway Patrol that it purge its lists of prospective patrolmen subject to appointment here of all but bonafide residents.

Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, charged that in certain instances applicants from San Francisco and other counties had "faked" their addresses and made it appear that they were residents of San Mateo county when they were not.

Supervisor John W. Poole, Redwood City, charged that in one instance his attention was called to an applicant who had given Redwood City as his address, but who lived in San Francisco and only called at the postoffice occasionally for his mail.

The move of the board came on information that the California patrol, because of the false addresses found in some instances, was planning to throw out the entire list of 26 applicants now on file with the commission. This, Witt said, would be an injustice to the bonafide residents who have made application and waited for long periods to secure traffic berths.

Chairman Manuel Francis named the board, county chiefs of police, judges and others as a committee to call upon the San Francisco board to request support for the county's appeal for more traffic officers.

Latest to file an application for appointment was Lambert R. Borghini, 33, of 651 College avenue, Menlo Park.

CITY PORT COSTS KEPT WITHIN $200,000 SUM

Costs to Redwood City in creating port facilities and dredging Redwood Creek will fall within the $200,000 previous estimate, Acting City Manager Charles Dimmitt Monday had informed the Council Harbor Committee in completing plans for the project.

The project will actually cost $352,800, with $192,700 as the city's share and $160,100 as the federal government's share.

The wharf and transit shed, Dimmitt reported, will cost $133,000. To this expense $5300 will be added for engineering, $2000 for legal expenses, $1500 for interest during construction, and $5000 for equipment, to make the port facilities cost $146,800.

Of this $146,800 cost, 45 per cent will be sought from the PWA, or $66,100. The balance of $80,700 will be borne by the city. In addition, Redwood City will be called upon to spend $2000 for trade promotion and $6000 for operation of the port for three months until business is sufficient to carry itself.

Ten thousand dollars is also being included for purchase of land.

Dredging will cost $188,000, half of it to come from the federal government. Redwood City's share of $94,000, added to the other costs, will bring the city's expense on the port project to $192,700.

Federal government participation, if PWA approval is secured, will be $160,100. To this may be added the sum the federal government will expend in dredging San Bruno shoals—an estimated $100,000—so that federal assistance will total $260,100.

Already expended in Redwood City by federal, local and private sources has been some $350,000, so that the port project, when completed under the present plans, will represent an investment of about $810,000.

Dimmitt is now at work completing the PWA application and Congressman John J. McGrath is awaiting its arrival in Washington, D. C., where he will assist the appeal for funds.

City Attorney Albert Mansfield, meanwhile, is securing an opinion from Attorney General U. S. Webb as to Redwood City's powers to proceed with the development.

Meeting with Dimmitt to confer on the plans were Mayor Charles Lambert, Councilmen Paul McCarthy, Louis Christiansen and Evans Fletcher, Mansfield, Elmore B. Hinman, R. J. Clark and William Vielhauer.

Fund Appropriation Ends Approach Row

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6 (UP)—A $1,200,000 state highway commission appropriation for construction of the Waldo approach to the Golden Gate bridge today had definitely and finally dispelled a protracted controversy between bridge interests and State Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly.

The commission appropriated the sum from state gasoline tax funds when it was revealed that receipts from that source would surpass previous estimates by nearly $2,000,000.

Combined with $500,000 already earmarked for the approach, the appropriation definitely assured construction of a four-lane highway, commission members said.

MENLO PARK ITEMS

Instead of sailing on the Franconia this week from New York, as they had planned, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Douglass and their daughter, Miss Florence, will remain for a few days in New York and then return to California overland. They will stay for a time in the southern part of the state.

Among the passengers on the Franconia when it sailed for a round-the-world trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buck of Menlo Park.

Celebrating the 13th birthday anniversary of their daughter, Rose Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. George Roy gave a party at their Menlo Park home Saturday afternoon. Games were followed by refreshments, served in the dining room where a decorated Christmas tree formed a gay background. They left in showers of confetti and serpentine, wishing the guest of honor many happy returns of the day.

Those present were Mildred Ann Gleason, Phyliss McMurray, Mildred Lightbody, Geraldine Gleason, Jeanne Hunter, Roberta Ramsay, Kaye Hunter, Patricia Hunter and Edith Ellis.

The annual meeting of St. Joseph's Alumni Association took place at the parochial school building last Sunday. The attendance of former pupils was larger than usual. Mother Foley, the principal, was delighted in greeting her old pupils. She is never so happy as when meeting the boys and girls of other days. The principal was given a beautiful plant, as were the other teachers, by members of the association. The following officers were elected for the year: Peter Bush, president; Ileen Eileen McCarthy, vice president; Genevieve Storlick, secretary; B. Sullivan, treasurer; Jack Fisher, marshall.

Attorney James J. O'Keefe Jr., celebrated his birth anniversary at a dinner given at his parents' home on University drive Tuesday evening. A large number of guests congratulated the young man. The party adjourned to the home of Miss Emily McCarthy to help celebrate her birthday. After greetings were extended, the entire party departed for San Francisco to enjoy a performance at one of the leading theatres.

Miss Meta Kugeler has been appointed by Supervisor Albert Witt to be custodian of the $2000 of the $5000 given the supervisors by the dog tracks. The $2000 is to be spent at the tubercular hospital and the other $3000 for aid of infantile paralysis patients at the hospital.

Episcopalians Elect Officers At Annual Meet

A full year of increased church activity is in prospect for the members of St. Peter's Episcopal Church as the result of election of officers and outlining of a spring schedule Monday night.

Officers elected are H. A. Brown, senior warden; A. M. Glover, junior warden; G. S. Thurtle, secretary; Harry Jenkins, treasurer; R. N. Hughes, W. A. Harper, Mrs. T. L. Thompson, W. J. Reynick, J. R. Banta and Mrs. H. A. Brown, board members.

Delegates to the diocesan convention are H. A. Brown, A. M. Glover, G. S. Thurtle, H. E. Jenkins, Col. P. C. Galleher. Alternates are P. D. Surber, W. Y. Patch, R. N. Hughes, W. A. Harper, W. J. Reynick.

Delegates to the convocation are A. E. Walker, P. Wilson, Mrs. T. L. Thompson, Mrs. A. M. Glover. Alternates are W. D. Keith, R. E. Savage, Mrs. Charlotte Chapman, Mrs. Roy Labachotte.

Coming events include the parish card party by the Young People's Fellowship January 17; Men's Club dinner with Archdeacon W. R. H. Hodgkin as speaker January 24; Valentine dance by the Y. P. F. February 14, and Shrove Tuesday pancake supper, with the comedy, "Sauce for the Goslings," February 25.

The St. Mary's Guild will meet weekly; the woman's auxiliary the first Wednesday of each month; the Parent-Teacher Association on the second Tuesdays; the Devotional Fellowship the third Thursdays; the men's (parish) dinner the fourth Fridays, and the council the first Tuesdays.

Reorganization of the working groups of the church was authorized, with the St. Mary's Guild becoming the church service league or union of all women's groups, with their heads holding rank of vice presidents, and the Men's Club filling a similar place for men's activities.

Reports disclosed a substantial gain in work of the church. Attendance at the Fellowship has nearly trebled; the Sunday school and choir, doubled, and the church attendance has increased.

The guild's report showed receipts of approximately $300. Pledges for church support during 1936 showed a 50 per cent increase, according to the committee: Carroll T. Harris, chairman; H. A. Brown, G. S. Thurtle, W. A. Harper, C. C. Greene, R. E. Savage, Col. P. C. Galleher, Mrs. H. E. Feldscher, Mrs. E. H. Rogers, Mrs. Roy Labachotte, Mrs. Thurtle, Mrs. Harper and Mrs. J. T. Cooper.

For the past year, church finances gained about 15 per cent, it was reported. The year ended with all accounts paid and a balance on hand.

Contest Looms Over Langley's $17,000 Estate

A contest developed Tuesday over administration of the estate of Charles H. Langley, who died intestate January 2 in Daly City of a heart attack while eating his dinner. Langley, who was 80, had been an employe of the Daly City Water Company for 27 years.

Monday Coroner William Crosby petitioned superior court for letters of administration, estimating the estate to consist of $17,500 in stocks and cash.

Tuesday Ralph S. Thomson, Sacramento, who says he is a son of the sister of Langley's deceased wife, asks for letters of administration. He lists heirs as being Carrie Thomson, his mother; Carrie Schaur, Tracy, daughter of a deceased sister of Langley's wife, and Harry Shields, Oakland, half brother of Langley's wife. Thomson says the estate is worth $22,000, consisting of $17,000 in cash and $5000 in real estate in this county.

He is represented by Attorney E. Hendricksen.

DISTRICT GETS ROAD

Official notice that the state had returned the disputed 3½-mile link of Junipero Serra boulevard in the north end of the county to Joint Highway District No. 10 after first giving it to San Mateo county, which protested the move, was received by the board of supervisors today from Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works.

Coast Man Denied 1936 Liquor Permit

(Special to The Tribune)

HALF MOON BAY, Jan. 8.—Peter Guidotti of Half Moon Bay was one of the 89 applicants denied 1936 liquor licenses yesterday by the state board of equalization, according to word received here today.

The board's action marked the first attempt to reduce, by at least 20 per cent, the record-breaking number of licenses issued in 1935, when the total in the state passed the 66,000 mark.

No reason was given for denying Guidotti a license. Sixteen of those denied were accompanied by unfavorable recommendations from the police, but it is not known if this group included Guidotti's application.

The magnolia is the state flower of Louisiana.

CONFERENCE HELD AID TO TRANSIT

Grade Crossing Group Urges Peninsula Closings

Officials of two counties encouraged the peninsula grade crossing conference last evening to continue its work as "vital to rapid transit" development.

The conference met at the Redwood City Firemen's Hall.

San Mateo County Engineer Urban S. Marshall stated that without getting many of the present crossings closed it would be impossible to secure rapid transit.

In this view, Supervisor John Poole concurred.

Santa Clara County Supervisor C. T. Cooley urged the conference to continue its efforts but to centralize them, and to begin a campaign of education of the public to the need of rapid transit which he said will equip the peninsula and Santa Clara valley to compete with the East Bay.

Indeed, the consensus of members was that efforts of the conference should be concentrated on the most dangerous crossings, and that women's clubs, improvement clubs and other civic organizations should be told of the crossing conference and the scope of its program.

W. E. Popp city engineer of San Jose counseled members to let the demand for closing crossings originate with communities. "The cities," he said, "should ask the support of the conference, not vice versa."

Next gathering of the conference, which in the future will meet bimonthly, was scheduled for March 11 at the Ravenswood school in East Palo Alto. A. J. Groves of East Palo Alto will be in charge of arranging the program.

Others present last evening were C. A. Buck, mayor of Burlingame, who presided; W. W. Soule, city engineer of San Mateo; Redwood City Attorney Albert Mansfield; Andrew Hoy, member of the safety board of Palo Alto; H. N. Bishop, Sunnyvale city engineer; Reese Lloyd, South San Francisco mayor; Charles Dimmitt, Redwood City engineer; and Mona L. Christensen of East Palo Alto, member of the conference.

S. P. Employe Dies Here of Heart Ills

George Axen, 55, Southern Pacific employe and resident of Redwood City for three years, dropped dead, apparently from heart disease, on Sunday at his home at 321 East Brewster street.

He is survived by his widow, Anna, and by two sons, John and Joseph. He was a brother of the late Charles Axen and a native of Denmark. He was a member of Danmard Branch No. 2 of Dania, Danish lodge. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Layng & Tinney parlor.

MOVE TERMED 'GESTURE' AS SEQUOIA AWARDS OUT

League Feud Ends As Burlingame, San Mateo Schedule Grid Game for Next Year; Hawley Declared Ineligible

Burlingame high school was awarded the 1935 Peninsula Athletic League football championship at a meeting of the league board of managers late yesterday in Palo Alto.

The move, which was termed "unimportant", "an idle gesture" and "belated" in Sequoia circles, since the local high school's gridiron awards have already been made on the basis of the Sequoia varsity being co-holder of the football championship, was made on the grounds Burlingame defeated Sequoia, and probably would have beaten San Mateo, had these teams played.

Previously the P. A. L. title has been calculated on a mathematical basis, two points being awarded a team for a victory, one for a tie. On this rating both Sequoia and Burlingame were tied, having each gained six points. Sequoia defeated San Jose, Palo Alto and San Mateo; Burlingame defeated Sequoia, Palo Alto and San Jose but did not play San Mateo, no game having been scheduled between these teams because of a feud which was brought to a close yesterday with decision of the board of managers to schedule this game next year.

DECISION 'UNIMPORTANT'

Sequoia Athletic Director Frank Griffin said the belated title decision was "unimportant and of small matter" since Sequoia had already made its awards.

Donald Bogie, vice principal and representative of Sequoia at the board meeting in place of Principal A. C. Argo, said the decision to award the championship to Burlingame, taken after an hour and a half's debate, was "an idle gesture."

"The boys won the title tie. It's not a mater of voting," he said.

Sequoia Football Coach Len Casanova also expressed strong dissatisfaction at the board's move, passed by a three to two vote (San Mateo, Burlingame and San Jose voting favorably, Palo Alto and Sequoia negatively).

N.C.S. NOT DISCUSSED

Further action taken by the board struck at Sequoia's chances for a P. A. L. baseball title when Joe Hawley, outfielder and consistent hitter, was declared ineligible for further competition. The action, expected by the Sequoia coaching staff, was taken because Hawley passed extra units in junior high school.

No decision was taken on the North Coast Section championships which it was said were to be revived in football, baseball and basketball.

George Stewart, board president, said today he would seek the opinion of the various schools in a poll by mail, or would call a special meeting before the N. C. S. convenes in February. All the schools except Sequoia were reported favoring the revival of the championships discontinued in these sports some years ago.

8-TEAM LEAGUE

The P. A. L. baseball league for the first time in many years will be composed of eight teams, it was announced by Stewart. Sequoia, Jefferson, Burlingame, San Mateo, Palo Alto, San Jose, South San Francisco and Half Moon Bay will be entered—all the league teams except Pescadero.

Umpires are to be appointed by Commissioner Lou Vogt in cases where coaches can not agree on an official.

Present besides Stewart, Bogie and Voft, were: Forrest Murdock of San Jose, W. Van Voris of Burlingame; F. J. McConville of San Mateo, Carl Weller of South San Francisco, Guy Rooney, South San Francisco superintendent and president of the N. C. S.; Jim Ferguson of Jefferson and Hod Ray of Palo Alto.

FIFTH SEPARATION 'FATAL'

Their fifth separation since their marriage June 3, 1926, today resulted in Harry B. Lewis bringing suit for divorce from Margaret S. Lewis. He cites grounds of extreme cruelty, saying his wife was jealous.

State Senator Made Defendant In Damage Suit

Chris Jespersen, 45-year-old state senator from Atascadero, was named one of three defendants in a $30,150 damage suit brought in superior court Tuesday as the result of an accident on the Bayshore highway just south of Redwood City December 12, in which one person was killed and four injured.

The suit was brought by Otto Garbe and Alvin Davis, both of San Francisco, against Jespersen, his wife, Jennie, and H. Wilkins, driver of the Jespersen sedan which collided with the car of Garbe.

Suing through Attorneys Mildred Woloski and J. W. Ehrlich of San Francisco, Garbe asks $25,000 damages for injuries he suffered and $150 for his machine, while Davis asks $5000 for his injuries. They allege the accident was caused by the "negligent, careless and reckless" driving of Wilkins.

Garbe's wife, Edith, was killed in the accident, which brought an investigation by Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis. The inquiry has not yet been completed due to the fact Dematteis has been unable to question Jespersen who has, since the accident, been confined to a San Francisco hospital with a leg injury.

Freight Shed Removal Goal Of Councilmen

Blocking of Crossing By Switching Brings Appeal to Railway

Efforts to secure the removal of the freight shed of the Southern Pacific from the west of Broadway location where it seriously interferes with traffic were launched by the city council Monday night. n

Blocking of the Broadway crossing by frequent switching of cars is back of the council's move.

The railroad will also be asked to open the depot property to vehicle traffic at James avenue by extension of that street to lessen the heavy congestion affecting the commuter arrivals by the lone access to the depot parking area from Broadway.

Councilman Robert Jones at the same time brought up the suggestion that gates or some means of more adequate protection at Broadway be provided.

Councilman James Eva was also of the opinion that Broadway should have gates installed.

Police Chief C. L. Collins, who said gates had once been used on Broadway, said their operation slows up traffic by tieing up autos which could pass when the trains are stopped at the depot. In this way 10 to 20 vehicles manage to get across the tracks which otherwise would add to the Broadway tie-up at train time, he said.

WHAT FUTURE USE?

Councilman Evans Fletcher, who for some time has been interested in demanding that the Southern Pacific improve the vast unused depot acreage, said he believed the time had come to ask the railroad to state its policy as to the future use of this property.

Councilman Eva followed the suggestion by putting a motion that Mayor Charles Lambert appoint a committee to confer with the Southern Pacific. Councilman George McNulty gave the second.

Mayor Lambert named Councilmen Fletcher and Christensen to serve with himself and Acting City Manager Charles Dimmitt and City Attorney Albert Mansfield.

Southern Pacific officials will be asked to come here and go over the scene with the council committee.

AIRPORT MATTER UP FOR CONSIDERATION

An offer by John H. Lyons, 241 Addison avenue, Palo Alto, to lease the proposed Redwood City airport property and hangar for $75 per month was given to the city council by Cliff Walk, airport committeeman.

Lyons sought exclusive privileges for student instruction and gasoline concessions.

Charles Cooley, for 16 years a flier in this vicinity, who formerly operated the flying field, advised against granting an exclusive concession on the field, asserting that move might kill the project.

Cooley expressed the opinion that in time Redwood City might become the home of many of the flying services now using other bay airports.

As the council is still awaiting a WPA application for building the hangar, no final action was taken on accepting the lease offered by M. F. O'Dea, Los Angeles, owner of the field.

O'Dea is to be notified by City Clerk B. E. Myers, however, that the council is interested and will forward the lease shortly if the federal aid is secured.

OTHER BRIEF ITEMS BEFORE CITY BOARD

Other actions included:

Accepted deed from General Petroleum for right-of-way for Pulgas sewer on property at Middlefield road and Bayshore.

Heard request of C. E. Bunyard, Orchard and Woodside road, for permission to make alterations to soft drink parlor, and referred the matter to planning commission.

Filed reply of Greater South Redwood Improvement Club that it could do nothing on proposed tree planting on Woodside road until the final width of that highway is established.

Heard protest of R. Schenk on rooster crowing in his neighborhood, and referred the matter to Inspector I. C. Drathman for solution.

Referred claim of Mrs. Daisy London for $500 for injuries incurred in stumbling on a broken sidewalk at 2906 Broadway to the city attorney for attention.

Passed a resolution of condolence expressing sympathy to Clarence Choate on the recent death of his wife, Mary Louise Choate, upon motion of Councilman McNulty and second of Councilman Fletcher.

SCRIBE RUNS OUT
As Firemen Dash In

While a Tribune reporter leaned out of the front window of the editorial offices and counted the fire alarm late Saturday as Box 5-3-1—Broadway and El Camino Real—and then dashed out the front door to respond, firemen brushed him aside as they entered the Tribune building.

"The fire's right here," the firemen remarked.

The reporter, puzzled, followed them into the print shop and down into the basement, where it was discovered something had gone wrong with the furnace. Actually, there was no fire, but the firemen in their usual caution were taking no chances and so brought along the town's whole apparatus.

Approximately five times as much horsepower per mile is required to drive an automobile at 70 miles an hour as at 20 miles an hour.

COAST BEACH PURCHASE INTENTION PUT ON FILE

Intention to purchase beach frontages at Tornton adjoining te Olympic Golf Club's beach at the San Francisco county line was decided by the board of supervisors here Monday.

Sellers will be the Spring Valley Company, Ltd., and W. G. Henshaw and wife, Irene. The two parcels will include 26 acres each.

Giles B. Johnson, right of way agent, reported $13,000 will be paid for the Spring Valley holding and $8,000 for the Henshaw proerty. Water rights have been granted to the county.

First proposals for the county to purchase the parcels by acquiring one tenth of the holdings now and subsequent tenths in other years have been changed so that the county will take a 10-year option on the Spring Valley holdings and buy the property as it sees fit, with a similar plan lasting five years to control the acquision of the Henshaw holdings.

San Francisco and the State of California will be asked to join the development of the beach playground.

Speed in acquiring the property now before construction of the Ocean Shore highway south along the coast was urged by Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, so that it could be secured at cheaper prices.

Hearing on the purchase was set for February 10 at 10 a. m. before the board.

Support of county American Legion posts to the current traffic drive had been added today.

A resolution presented by San Mateo post proposing all county units join the drive was unanimously adopted at last week's meeting here.

At the session, it was also agreed to take over the handling of monthly entertainment programs for veterans in hospitals. Committeemen named to inaugurate the change were Faun Tuska, chairman; E. C. Signarowitz, secretary; Lee Williams, Mrs. Florence D. Chess and Mrs. Charlotte Johnson.

Reports were given at the meeting. The next session will be held February 3 in San Bruno.

Test of Nevada Law Postponed By Court

Supreme court determination of validity of Nevada marriages uniting Californians will not be known for at least 25 days more, it appeared today after the court failed to hear closing arguments Monday in the case of Mrs. Alecia McDonald, who is seeking to prevent annulment of her marriage to James McDonald III, peninsula heir.

The court directed that arguments be briefed in 25 days, after which the case will stand submitted.

McDonald is appealing from a decision of the late Superior Judge Franklin Swart, which has been upheld by the appellate court. Mrs. McDonald is seeking separate maintenance.

NEGRO COUPLE GETS MARRIED AS COUNTY BUSINESS HALTS

Stray grains of rice still on the floor of County Executive Walter Kellogg's private office today bore mute evidence of a happy scene enacted in the courthouse late Monday.

It was the occasion of the first wedding in the manager's rooms—a wedding which saw county officials in attendance and Miss Grace Goshorn, secretary to Kellogg, "standing up" with the bride.

Principals were John S. Bryant, 25, and Willa Mae Medearis, 23, both colored.

With Rev. J. E. McCorkle, colored pastor of Palo Alto, and Matthew Tassylin, colored, also of Palo Alto, the couple secured their license from County Clerk E. B. Hinman.

They then asked about a room where they could be married. The word got to Manager Kellogg, who graciously invited the participants.

Present there on business, and staying to witness the rites, were Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Sullivan, Coroner William Crosby, Publicity Director William McCarthy, Kellogg, Miss Goshorn and Secretary Harriet Parkman of the health department.

Profuse in their thanks to Kellogg for his kindness in halting business long enough for the simple ceremony, the couple left with the announced intention of taking an automobile trip through Northern California before returning to Palo Alto to make their home.

Brooks Held to Trial On Shooting Charge

Charged with assault with a deadly weapon as the result of a shooting affray last Sunday night in the southern end of town, George Brooks, Negro, was held to answer to superior court when he appeared before Police Judge Edward I. McAuliffe. His intended victim, Geraldine Frazer, also colored, has pleaded not guilty to a charge of intoxication lodged at the same time. Her trial is slated for this week.

Society Woman Faces 2 Charges After S. F. Crash

(Special to The Tribune)

BURLINGAME, Jan. 7.—A Burlingame society woman was free on $600 bail today facing drunken and reckless driving charges in San Francisco, and three men were injured as the result of a spectacular accident in front of the General Hospital in the bay city yesterday afternoon.

The arrested woman is Mrs. Emily Dickson, 705 Brewer drive, former wife of Lieut. Mosely Taylor. She is the daughter of George A. Pope, one of the state's wealthiest lumbermen. Her husband Russell Dickson, is a widely known steamship official.

Police said she was driving out Portrero avenue on the wrong side of the street and crashed into the car of Robert A. Lynch, who in turn collided with the car of Alexander Walter. Neither was hurt. Then, officers contend, she hit a machine driven by Adolph Pagona. He incurred a broken leg as his car hit a pole. The Dickson car then was alleged to have caromed into another driven by Miguel Roselle, who suffered lacerations. The other injured man was Monteo Tanigda, whose legs were broken.

The largest cave temple in India, is at Karli, a village in the Poona district. It contains a great hall 126 feet long, 45 feet wide and 46 feet high, and its carving dates from the first century B.C.

COUNTY MAY YET SECURE NAVAL BASE

That's McGrath View As Told in Letter To Newspaper

Congressman John J. McGrath is still as confident as ever that the navy will eventually locate on the San Francisco peninsula instead of at Alameda, he indicated in a letter appearing in the Safety Valve of a San Francisco newspaper.

McGrath, commenting on an editorial in the paper, said the statement that the base might be lost to Southern California if the bay area should fight over it, "is absolutely misleading."

The reason for his lack of fear that the base would be lost to the south lies in the fact that defense needs are most pressing in San Francisco and are adequately provided for in the south.

"NOT IN THE BAG"

Concerning Alameda, he writes: "It is not true the Navy Department has definitely selected Alameda as the exclusive base; if it has, why would five naval engineers officially survey San Mateo point . . . Why would Admiral King, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, state that 'San Mateo point is being considered' if Alameda were 'in the bag'?"

"My championship of San Mateo point is not 'revived' but is 'hot off the bat'," he avers.

Continuing, he asserts;

"I wish to make this clear to the people of San Francisco and of the San Francisco-San Mateo peninsula—the donation of the mud flats at the end of the big bridge (at Alameda) will not be the dominating factor.

"I also wish to caution the people of the San Francisco-San Mateo Peninsula not to be disturbed by your editorials. Even should Alameda hold an election and donate the mud flats at the end of the transbay bridge (which will forever be a menace to aviation), I still hold that the Navy Department must develop a field where they will have exclusive control and ownership independent of the army, free from fog and within a few minutes flying distance from the fleet — that is San Mateo point! . . .

"The death struggle for supremacy between the Occident and the Orient will some day be decided outside the Golden Gate, and the Navy Department will not be, and should not be, swayed by ballyhoo from east or west bay interests. It will be and must be what is best for the nation as a whole and the West coast in particular—national defense."

McGrath's letter was written in Washington on January 4.

McAuliffe.

Tennis Champions Suspended for Year

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN MATEO, Jan. 6.—Craig Neel and Robert Borland, Palo Alto students at the junior college here who hold the Pacific coast junior doubles tennis championship, have been suspended for a year and their title declared forfeited by the Northern California Lawn Tennis Association, it was learned here today by Coach Cy Bashor. Reason for the suspension was that Borland was over 18 when the couple won the title. It was not expected the suspension would prevent their playing for the college, Bashor said.

TRAINS LAUGH AT WINTER

Trains come through in any weather, laughing at storms, whistling defiance at rain and sleet. Inside the train, you are warm, dry, and comfortable while thousands of trained men watch day and night to see that you get there swiftly, safely, and on time.

Other highways are often slippery and dangerous in winter. But steel rails are always safe—the smoothest, safest highway in the world. When you travel this winter, try the train. Let the engineer drive you there for 2¢ a mile or less.

4 More Claim James Frazer Kinship Here

Dispute Over Birthday Of Pioneer Merchant Causes New Delay

Disputes over where and when James Frazer was born Monday caused another postponement of the hearing to determine who shall inherit the $309,000 estate left by the late Palo Alto merchant.

This time the case was re-set for March 12, again before Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, who in a half-hour hearing this morning learned that four more residents of Ireland are claiming the estate.

Represented by Attorney J. J. Taaffe, San Francisco, who attained prominence in the Flood case, the four claim to be first cousins. They also say they are the "only surviving heirs" of Frazer; consequently entitled to the entire estate. They are Emily, John, Henry and Archibald Frazer. No record of their lineage accompanies their claim, nor does any address, but courtroom attaches said it was understood all live in Ireland.

56 NOW CLAIM SHARE

Their appearance raises total claimants to 56 and number of separate families claiming kinship to Frazer to five.

While the entire case revolves around Frazer's early life, Monday's hearing brought out two dates purporting to be the birthdays of the "mystery merchant" who died in a San Mateo rooming house a year ago last September without leaving a will. Which date is correct will be determined, it is expected, at the March 12 session.

Attorney C. B. Wooster, San Jose, on behalf of 18 claimants, submitted a birth certificate showing Frazer was born in Ireland in 1858. Birth certificates of all the claimants were submitted also before Wooster rested his case. He likewise introduced as evidence a 1900 San Francisco city directory showing Frazer was engaged in that city in the insurance business in the firm of Gordon & Frazer, with residence at 614 Sutter and place of business as 308 Pine street.

Judge McNutt confirmed facts given by the directory, saying he was acquainted with Frazer at the time and continued his acquaintanceship through the years.

To refute Wooster's claim, however, Attorney David Freidenrich of San Francisco offered in evidence hospital records secured from the University of California Hospital, made in November, 1933, when Frazer entered that San Francisco institution for treatment.

BIRTH DATES VARY

The records gave Frazer's birth date as 1866. Freidenrich pointed out that if this were the correct date of the late merchant's birth, he could hardly, 15 years later, have written business letters, upon hand-writing of which Wooster bases his claim that his heirs are rightful ones. The letters were introduced by Wooster several months ago, and a Palo Alto bank teller identified signatures as those of James Frazer the merchant.

Introduction of the hospital records brought allegations from former Congressman Arthur M. Free, representing John Burns, a man claiming to be sole heir to Frazer, that the hospital was showing favoritism. Free declared he had been refused access to the same records.

Judge McNutt refused to accept the hospital records as evidence, on the grounds they were "hearsay." A telephone call during a court recess to the hospital in an effort to get the person who made the records from statements by Frazer to testify produced the information that the papers had been filled out by an interne, name now unknown, who since has left the hospital.

Judge McNutt finally consented to allow the records to be introduced to refute the birth date given by Wooster. The records show Frazer had a brother and two sisters living at the time he entered the hospital. Their names or addresses are not given, however.

35 Motorists Cited in Month By Police Here

Redwood City police last month arrested 35 motorists for traffic law violations, 23 of which were for overparking and five for all night parking, the rest being for violation of other ordinances, according to Police Chief C. L. Collins' monthly report.

The officers also arrested and booked 74 other people, 29 of them on charges of vagrancy in a futile search for the prowler who during the month looted seven local residences, and 22 on charges of being intoxicated.

Of those arrested for intoxication, eight were fined a total of $100 in fines ranging from $10 to $25; one was given a 30-day jail term; one five days and one three days, and 11 won suspended sentences when they appeared before Judge Edward I. McAuliffe.

During the month, two cars stolen were recovered; 47 arrested persons were fingerprinted; 24 auto accidents were investigated, and 39 business houses found unlocked at night were closed.

Wealthy Man Leaves Children His Fortune

Leaving nothing to his former wife, Mrs. Carolyn Stevens, whose suits for separate maintenance and divorce were sensations in the San Francisco and Marin county courts two years ago, Samuel B. Stevens, wealthy Palo Alto and New York merchant and sportsman, willed his entire fortune to his four children. This was disclosed with filing of the will for probate in Superior Judge F. H. Dunne's San Francisco court yesterday. Value of the estate is estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Sleep Proves Boon If in Stolen Car

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN MATEO, Jan. 8.—Howard Schroeder of San Francisco was found this morning sound asleep in a stolen car parked in the middle of a local street intersection.

Police booked him at the city jail on a charge of intoxication because at the time they discovered him he was not driving the car which investigation later showed had been stolen last evening from Joseph Rodrigues of the Burlingame Country Club.

CAR CATCHES FIRE

Paint remover which caught fire apparently from a spark at the Service Garage, El Camino Real and Maple street, resulted in a call to the fire department at 2:50 p.m. Monday. Considerable smoke was created. Chief Mark Ryan said that Frank Tancos, garage employe, narrowly escaped severe burns.

More than 1,000 miles of Kansas state highways were built during 1935.

County Makes Initial Base Debt Payment

First payment by San Mateo county to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce on the 5-year-old $50,000 Sunnyvale debt pledge was made Monday by Deputy Controller George Filbert.

George North, of the San Francisco chamber, was given a check for $2,500. This, North declared, is entirely satisfactory, as it permits the chamber to meet certain interest payments. The balance of the first $10,000, or $7,500, will be paid by June, North was told.

July, originally the fifth month of the year, was called "Quintilis" by the Romans.
